Celebrating life's special moments are what birthdays are all about and these occasions are made all the more special with time spend with your bff's. Reeda Josephs, the creator and CWO (Chief Wit Officer) of the Wright Card Company has gathered adorable, sweet, sassy and oh-so-funny gal pals and gaggles having a giggle and celebrating the bonds of friendship. From fab 50's to the swinging 60's, these vintage vixens jump off the page and into your heart. Reeda has an eye for rare images and these Birthday Girls are her finest collection ever paired with great good humor that is best shared with your friends. As Reeda herself says, 'Friendship is not a big thing, it is a million little things.' Birthday Girls celebrates the bonds of true friendship with laughter and a lot of love!

"Birthday Girls seems like a sweet little book but underneath the surface, it is really about something quite deep which is the incredible power of friendship. Our friends are there long after the ups and downs of romance. Friendships are built on mutual respect, appreciation and shared experience. Those bonds are unbreakable and Reeda Josephs highlights that with a rare wit and charm." Louise Baxter Harmon, author of Happiness A to Z "Friendship really is the gift that keeps on giving and Birthday Girls celebrates that with style and panache. I think I will need to keep a case of this book on hand at all times as Reeda Josephs has created a gorgeous to share with friends on all those special days!"
