Makayla's review By A Customer I choose this book because I had seen the movie and every one said the movie is different from the book. The movie is different from the move in many ways. It left out when he becomes a professor, when he moves to Paris, and when he is put in solitaire confinement. I liked this book because it shows just how easy it was to rip off a bank in the 60's. I think it is funny how much training the tellers had at finding a bad check. Back then the tellers only asked for ID on large amounts, now we have technology so we can search out phonies. This book is about Frank W Abagnale and how he conned every bank in New York City and several other major cities in all different countries. His schemes involved an airline pilot, an attorney, a physician, professor and a detective. He goes from state to state and from country to country and scams any one he can for what ever he needs. The type of person that would like this book a lot would be girls because he also tricks girls into helping him in his scams. I think that we all could learn a thing or two from this book. That is why I liked the book. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. An Exciting, Fantastic Read By H. Chandler What a great book! I could not wait until I could read more each day and lost myself in this book whenever I started reading. Very well-written and an engaging story. I was so sorry to see it end. The book is the true story of Frank Abagnale Jr's life as a con-artist. I think it's so amazing that he was smart enough to trick everyone into believing he was what he said he was and at a very young age, nonetheless! Fascinating. And even more amazing is how his charm flows through the story, so you as the reader end up cheering for him, even though he's the bad guy! The only reason I rated it four stars, instead of five, was because I felt it ended too abruptly. I would have liked to have read about his life beyond that point and learn what he's doing now. Overall a great, entertaining story and a must-read!

Engaging in a game of cat and mouse in the real-life crime drama, Frank Abagnale, Jr. (Di Caprio) worked as a doctor, a lawyer, and as a co-pilot for a major airline—all before his 18th birthday. A master of deception, he was also a brilliant forger, whose skill gave him his first real claim to fame: At the age of 17, Frank Abagnale, Jr. became the most successful bank robber in the history of the United States. FBI Agent Carl Hanratty (Hanks) made it his prime mission to capture Frank and bring him to justice, but Frank was always one step ahead of him, baiting him to continue the chase. With more than 100 color images, the companion book includes the complete script and behind-the-scenes photographs of this amazing true tale.
