Ross Petras, Kathryn Petras : Computer Geek: 2005 Day-To-Day Calendar before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Computer Geek: 2005 Day-To-Day Calendar:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. The worst collection of cracker jokes ever.By Mr. B. M. Buttigieg365 pages of utter drivel. As my wife bought it for me I have tried to give it the benefit of the doubt but so far have yet to reach a day where I so much as raise a smile! God awful does come close.e.g. "Stack overflow: (n) Too many pancakes" and "You know a blonde has been working on your computer when the numeric keypad only goes up to six!"Can someone please explain this to me? How is this funny?Sadly I cannot give zero stars. How the author had the gaul to publish this rubbish I don't know.Get a Dilbert calendar!!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. OMG -- Stay away from this!By D. FawleyNone of the things in it are remotely funny. If it wasn't a gift missing a receipt, I would return it. As it is, I tried to give it away to someone at my company, and nobody would take it. Save your money!
