Agatha Christie : Miss Marple's Final Cases: Three New BBC Radio 4 Full-Cast Dramas before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Miss Marple's Final Cases: Three New BBC Radio 4 Full-Cast Dramas:

You hardly know she's there. She's like your favorite spinster Auntie. You both are listening to the same clues, but you just can't figure out how she solved the murder before you did. I don't believe I have ever been able to solve a crime before the end of the book. Christie is a master of subterfuge. She can branch off in so many directions and make each one seem that that is the only solution to the murder and then blindsides you with a completely different ending. This CD set was a series of Miss Marple's final cases. All read by different narrators, but each one was enjoyable. They kept me sitting in my car long after I had arrived at my destination. I still have several Christie books I haven't read yet. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I loved it. Agatha Christie is my favorite author By Jane Griff I loved it. Agatha Christie is my favorite author. The shows were done well and I got a lot of work done while listened. Great quality on the disc. Fairly priced. Thank you. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Two Stars By J. Walls The quality of the audio was scratchy and unclear!

June Whitfield returns as the deceptively mild spinster sleuth in three full-cast BBC Radio dramatizations. Specially broadcast to mark the 125th anniversary of Agatha Christie's birth, these brand new dramas are based on three of her best short stories. Tape-Measure Murder: When Mrs Spence is murdered in St Mary Mead, the village gossips all agree that her husband must have killed her until Miss Marple is called as an alibi. The Case of the Perfect Maid: Miss Marple investigates the problem of a lady's maid who has been mysteriously fired while also helping her crime writer nephew Raymond West to cure his writer's block. Sanctuary: Miss Marple and her god-daughter Bunch are horrified when they discover a dying man in the local church. Can Miss Marple deduce his identity and his killer from his last words? First published in the collection Miss Marple's Final Cases, these three delightfully clever tales will keep you guessing till the end. Starring June Whitfield reprising her role as Miss Marple for the first time since 2001 they are dramatized for BBC Radio by Joy Wilkinson.

'When it all becomes clear as day, the reader can only say, "Now why didn't I think of that?" But he never does. Miss Christie at her best.' Springfield Republican About the Author Agatha Christie was born in Torquay in 1890 and became the bestselling novelist in history. She wrote 79 crime mysteries and collections, and saw her work translated into more languages than Shakespeare.
