Introductory comments and performances included in this series are "Golden Age of Radio" performers Parley Baer, Harry Bartell, Elliott Reid and Peggy Webber. The Adventures of the Haunted Bagpipes (Originally broadcast on February 17, 1947) Scottish bogels and the haunted bagpipes are terrorizing Hangman's Lane in Edinburgh. Yet there is more to it than some old legends and strange noises. Why have Holmes and Watson traveled to this dreary neighborhood in the dark of night? Perhaps the name Moriarty has something to do with it. The Adventure of the Horseless Carriage (Originally broadcast on February 24, 1947) "You'll never get me to risk my life in one of those wretched things!" claims Dr. Watson. In 1903, Holmes gets one of his most unusual assignments. He is asked to prevent the destruction of a new invention, a horseless carriage! Can he protect the automobile before the big race when he doesn't even know how to drive? Oh, remember the days of hansom cabs!

About the Author Boucher and Green were the writers who created these wonderful, timeless Sherlock Holmes radio dramas. Anthony Boucher was one of the founders of Mystery Writers of America.
